

SHOPPING & SERVICES

There are numerous locally-owned stores in the downtown area and beyond, making it easy (and fun) to search for unique gifts and souvenirs.

The current trend of “think globally, act locally” is exemplified in the thriving locally owned businesses in Bloomington. This city is filled with shops, galleries, retailers, and service providers, all offering up unique goods and services, and doing it with a friendliness and personal touch that defines Hoosier hospitality.

The downtown area is especially full of local retailers, where you can find anything from trendy apparel to fine art. The concentration of unique shops makes it the ideal place to find gifts for friends and family—or yourself! Grab an IU t-shirt at the Indiana Shop, some hand-dyed yarn at Yarns Unlimited, or a beautiful home accent piece at Relish. You can find just about anything in Downtown Bloomington, particularly those very special items.

Great shopping can also be found in other parts of the city and surrounding areas too. More locally owned businesses are sprinkled through the community, along with some mainstream retailers. The College Mall and the West Third Street areas offer a variety of retailers, from department stores to electronics providers.

Explore all the options to find the right souvenir for you. You’ll be amazed at the variety and quality you get, not to mention the great service.

NEED GUIDANCE? If you’re wandering around downtown Bloomington, be sure to track down one of the 13 kiosks sprinkled around the downtown area. Each kiosk has a map highlighting the downtown shopping venues, restaurants, attractions and accommodations as well as a quarterly events calendar.
